"I was most impressed with his ability to ask simple, powerful questions that really penetrated to the heart of some issues I faced." ~ Cindy B.

"Every event, relationship and opportunity is a chance to learn and maximize your time, your energy, your focus and your results while you're here on Earth. It doesn't matter whether you are running a business, creating a piece of art, or caring for the person you love. It's all about acknowledging who you are as a human being and stepping into the belief that you matter and have an incredible gift to bring to the world."

~ Donnie Hill

In attempting to maximize mind, body and spirit in his work with clients who come from a variety of life circumstances, Donnie Hill relies on authentic self-expression, performance, body/mind connection and evolutionary spirituality.

He imagines a world where people have both peace of mind and peace of heart and no longer struggle unnecessarily.

Donell Hill received his education from Stanford University. He is a Certified Panic to Powerful Cancer Coach, a Peer Health Educator, a NASM Certified Personal Trainer and a professional actor in the SF Bay Area. His talents support his public speaking and allow him to create and lead fun, dynamic, engaging workshops that transform audiences.

Your Legacy Becomes You

"With Donnie, I was able to challenge old patterns and give attention to the parts of myself that needed love and healing."

~ Kirsten R.

When a leader can tap into and maximize their gifts in service, they create fresh opportunities for themselves and others.

Their relationships are more satisfying, they enjoy the full range of emotional and creative expression and they are able to contribute to their community in a deeply meaningful way. Being a maximized leader brings a freedom that riches cannot buy – it can only be earned and then sustained through legacy.
